That Person who is awake in those that sleep, shaping desire after desire, that, indeed is pure.

That is Brahman, that, indeed, is called the immortal. In it, all the worlds rest and no one ever goes beyond it.

This, verily, is that, kamam kamam: desire after desire, really objects of desire. Even dream objects like objects of waking consciousness are due to the Supreme Person.

Even dream consciousness is proof of the existence of the self.

No one ever goes beyond it: of Eckhart: 'On reaching God all progress ends.'

Women Empowered with the Degree of CA

Empowerment is often measured by the freedom to make choices, achieve financial independence, and create a meaningful impact. For many women, the Chartered Accountancy qualification becomes much more than a professional degree—it becomes a symbol of confidence, resilience, and limitless possibilities.

Becoming a Chartered Accountant is a journey of discipline, perseverance, and continuous learning. For women, this journey is often accompanied by multiple responsibilities, balancing education, career aspirations, family expectations, and, at different stages of life, personal commitments. Yet, countless women continue to prove that determination has no barriers.

The CA qualification equips women with not only technical expertise in finance, taxation, audit, and advisory but also the ability to lead organisations, establish successful practices, mentor future professionals, and contribute meaningfully to the nation's economic growth. It offers financial independence, decision-making power, and the confidence to stand shoulder to shoulder with the best professionals across industries.

What makes this profession truly special is its flexibility? A woman Chartered Accountant can build a thriving practice, excel in the corporate world, become an entrepreneur, contribute to academia, or seamlessly reinvent her career as life evolves. The degree grows with her, empowering her at every stage.

As a woman Chartered Accountant, I believe this qualification has given me far more than professional recognition. It has taught me resilience, strengthened my self-belief, and reminded me that every challenge is an opportunity to grow. Whether in the boardroom, at a client's office, or at home managing personal responsibilities, the values instilled by this profession continue to guide every decision.

To every aspiring girl who dreams of becoming a Chartered Accountant—believe in your potential. The path may be demanding, but the destination is rewarding. The letters “CA” are not merely a designation; they represent dedication, credibility, and the power to inspire others.

When women are empowered with the degree of Chartered Accountancy, they do not just transform their own lives—they strengthen families, businesses, communities, and ultimately, the nation.
